Dear Timberhill Tennis Club Members,

The Board is continuing to review how we maintain TTC's financial integrity during the club closure. We recognize that members do not have access to the club and that some are facing financial hardship.

Membership dues are the only current source of club revenue. Without lesson income and other sources, the club's recurring expenses exceed member dues revenue. The Board reviewed all opportunities we could identify to cut expenses including that we furloughed all employees except for Hunter. Staff can apply for unemployment and the pros may be eligible for amounts that approach their income. Hunter continues to work full-time for the club at a reduced compensation with TTC funding part of his lost lesson income. We found some ways to further cut expenses and are continuing to explore additional opportunities. The Board has applied for an EIDL loan that, if approved, could potentially offset some of our loss of income.

The Board reviewed a range of options for member dues, reviewed what other clubs are implementing, and talked with many members. We have heard that many members want to support the club through this mandated closure and are eager to resume playing when it is safe to do so. After careful consideration, the Board has decided to again charge full dues for May.

We will work with anyone who is facing financial hardship. If this is the case -- for example, from loss of a job or inadequate funding -- please contact Hunter or a Board member. Hunter will coordinate with the Board to develop solutions to the extent the club can support them.

We would like to keep all our members through these challenging times of COVID-19 social distancing. The Board will continue to review our financial situation on a regular basis and communicate our findings with the membership at least monthly. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Hunter or a Board member. Thanks to everyone for your support.

With appreciation,
